

Special Events at the Rice House

The Rice House, designed in the International Style, is located on a private island overlooking the James River. The house and site create a magnificent backdrop for your next event.

Our professional event coordinators will work with you to make your event unique and unforgettable.

HISTORY

In 1996, Ambassador and Mrs. Rice donated the property to the Science Museum of Virginia. Walter and Inger studied the work of the world's leading architects, settling upon Richard Neutra, viewed by many as one of the 20th century's most influential architects. The Rice House has been recognized as a peerless example of modernist architecture integrated into a complex natural environment. For decades, the Rice House served as a family home. The Rices received the Architectural Medal for Virginia Service in 1997. The property is listed in the National Register of Historic Places and was renovated in early 2011.
